FOREWORD

Between these covers is the story of Notre Dame High School, 1962. Like most stories, it has its joys and its sadness, its achievements and its failures, its conquests and defeats. The characters of this story are you, the students and teachers of Notre Dame. The action is the things you said and did. It is your story; for it was you who cheered at the games, worried over grades, and made new friends. It was your laughter that filled the halls and your joys that brought joy to the school. But most of all, you learned—not necessarily about who discovered America—but about yourself in relation with others. It came about through gifted teachers, intelligent classmates, and Divine Providence. You cannot forget the lessons you learned within these ancient walls; every once in a while you will be reminded of them, and take a fresh look at yourselves. Hence, this volume of the IRISH ECHOES. It is our aim to produce a valid, honest picture of what happened this year, that you may see on these pages a true reflection of yourselves.

—THE EDITORS

DEDICATION

I have no name; I am only one of the students of Notre Dame. Each day I join the horde of youth who struggle with knowledge in her classrooms, and I share their interests, their good fortune, and their hardships. I also share in their unconquerable spirit and love for freedom. Yet, as nation after nation falls at the feet of totalitarian ideologies, we watch the friends of the United States weakening in their stand for freedom. Will we be left on an island, in a contemptuous sea that is determined we shall be drowned in its atheistic social philosophy? Will we then have the courage to withstand repeated efforts to gnaw away our single weapon, that invincible faith and hope in the providence of God? The nineteen sixty-two edition of the IRISH ECHOES is devoted to the Queen of Peace; these pages represent a fervent prayer to Our Lady in heaven that she will intercede, not only for us, but for all believers in freedom. With this prayer, I promise to learn to appreciate my Faith and my American way of life . . . and to help others to do the same.

I

BELIEVE

IN

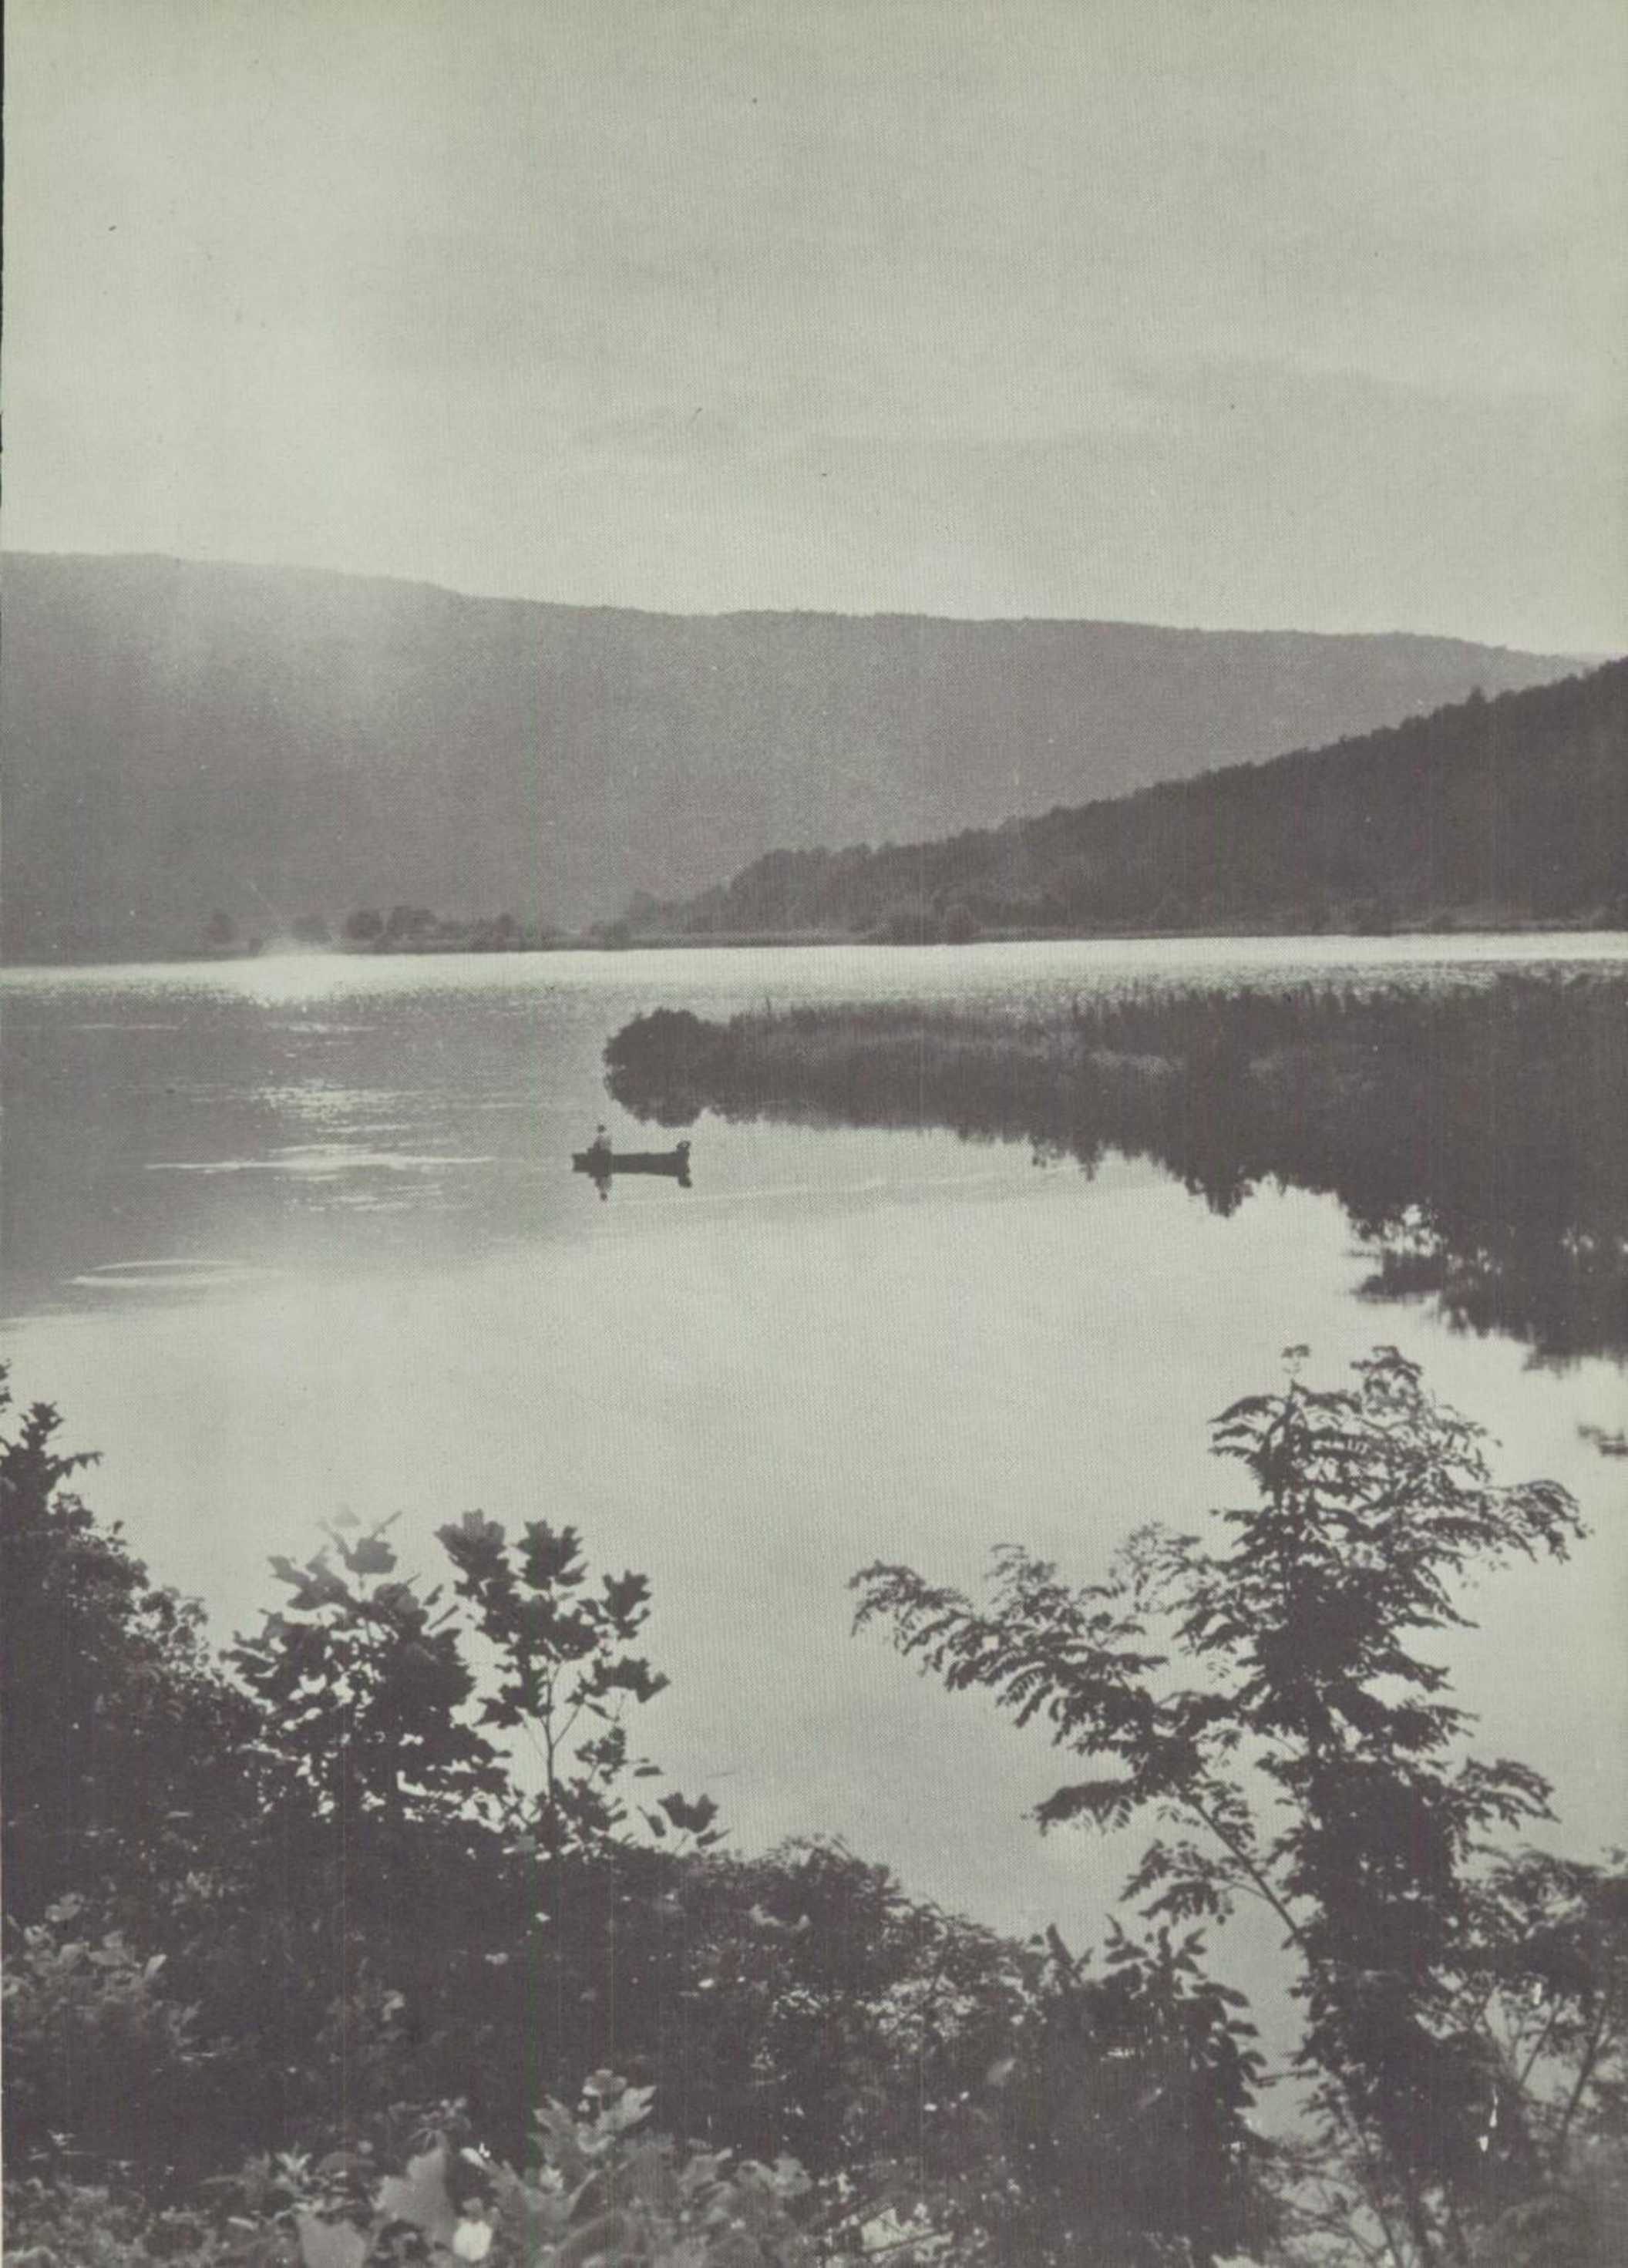
AND

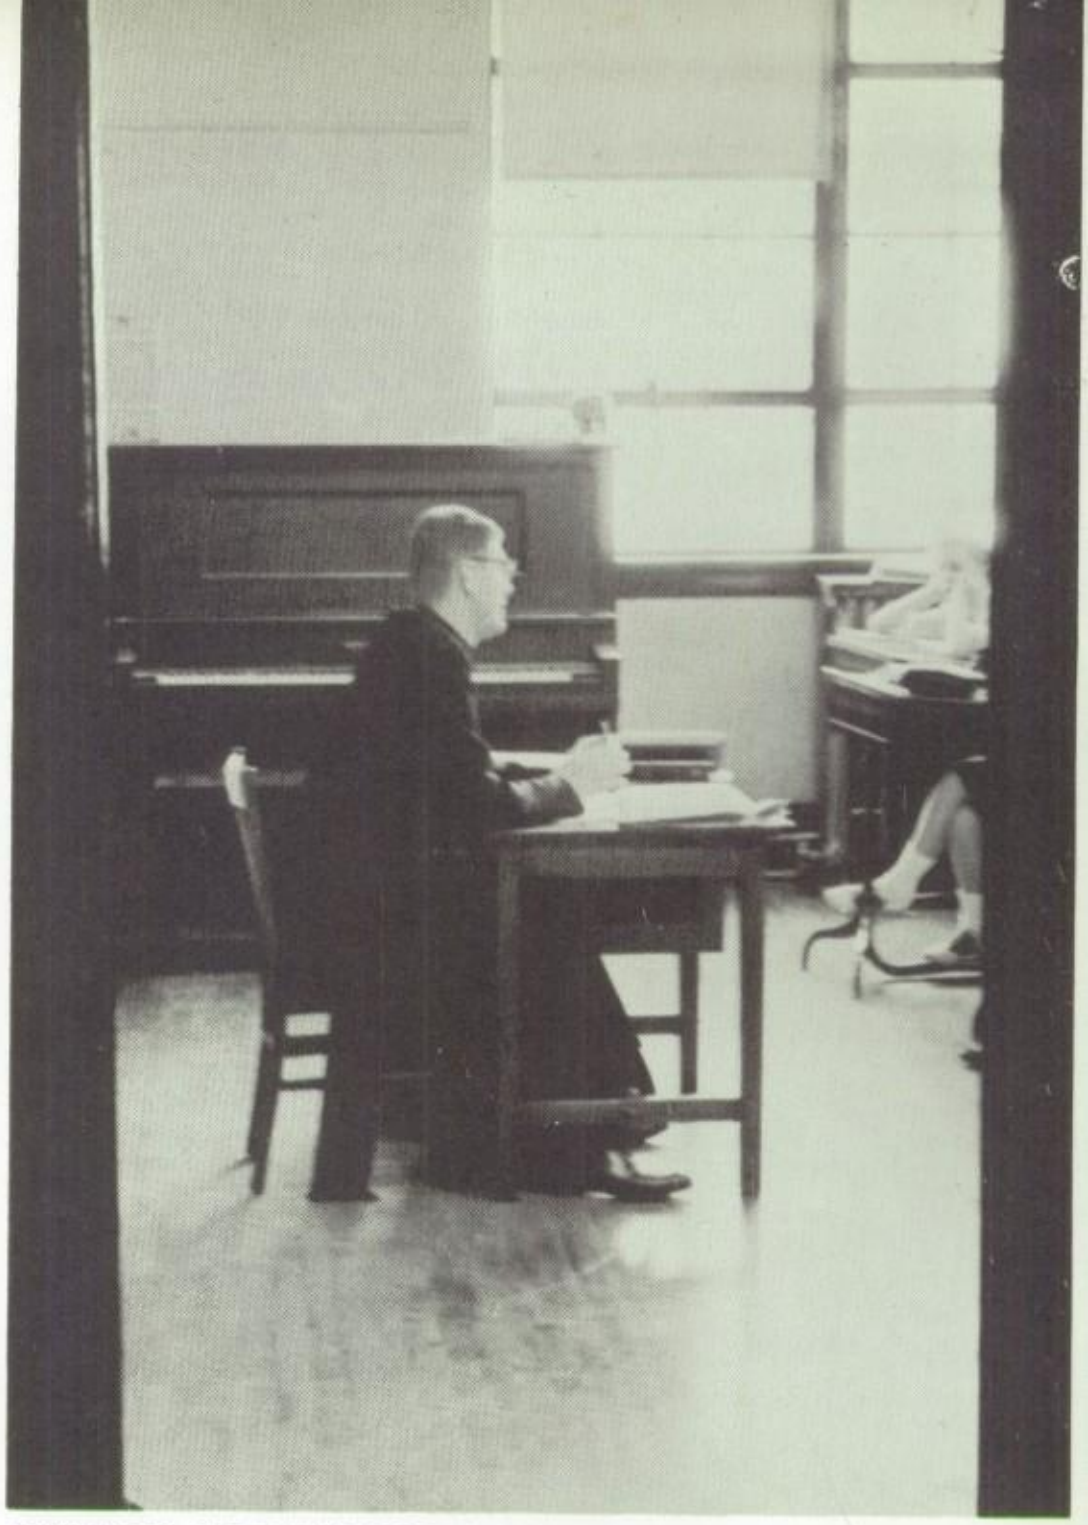
I

LOVE

IT



EACH DAY I LOVE GOD MORE . . .



BECAUSE I LEARN MORE ABOUT HIM . . .

. . . AND I NEED HIM MORE IN MY DAILY LIFE.

FREEDOM OF GOD

Within these walls I am taught to realize that the salvation of my soul and my personal happiness are, rather than two unrelated goals, actually one and the same thing; if I respect and obey the Commandments of God and the Precepts of His Church, I will find peace of mind along with the most perfect earthly happiness. It naturally follows, also, that God will become more than just the impersonal force who governs my life — He will become a part of everything I say, do, or think. This is Freedom of God — permitting Him to share in my life, of which He is the Rightful Owner. Freedom of God allows me to think of Him as the Sympathetic Ear in times of hurt and confusion; as the Most Loyal Fan in times of success; and as the Most Loving Defender in times of unjust persecution.

FREEDOM OF EDUCATION

An education does not consist in consuming mere facts and figures. At Notre Dame my mind is taught to reason and to apply the knowledge I have acquired. Because she seeks to develop my mind rather than my memory, Notre Dame has Freedom of Education. In today's world, it is imperative that I think logically in order to choose right from wrong in a constant barrage of controversial situations. As an example, I may very soon be forced to choose between my personal freedom and life — which would I prefer to give up? I must learn the effects of Communism, and I must decide why they are evil. If I have profited by my Catholic education, I will know immediately that forfeiting my God-given freedom, and that of my country, is wrong, and I will fight, not only for my own liberty, but for that of my country and her allies. In this way, I see that I arrive at a just conclusion through reason, and when it knows how to think and conclude logically, my mind is made free.

FREEDOM CANNOT EXIST
UNLESS I HELP
BY LEARNING ALL I CAN . . .

. . . SO I MAY BECOME AN INDIVIDUAL WITH MY OWN
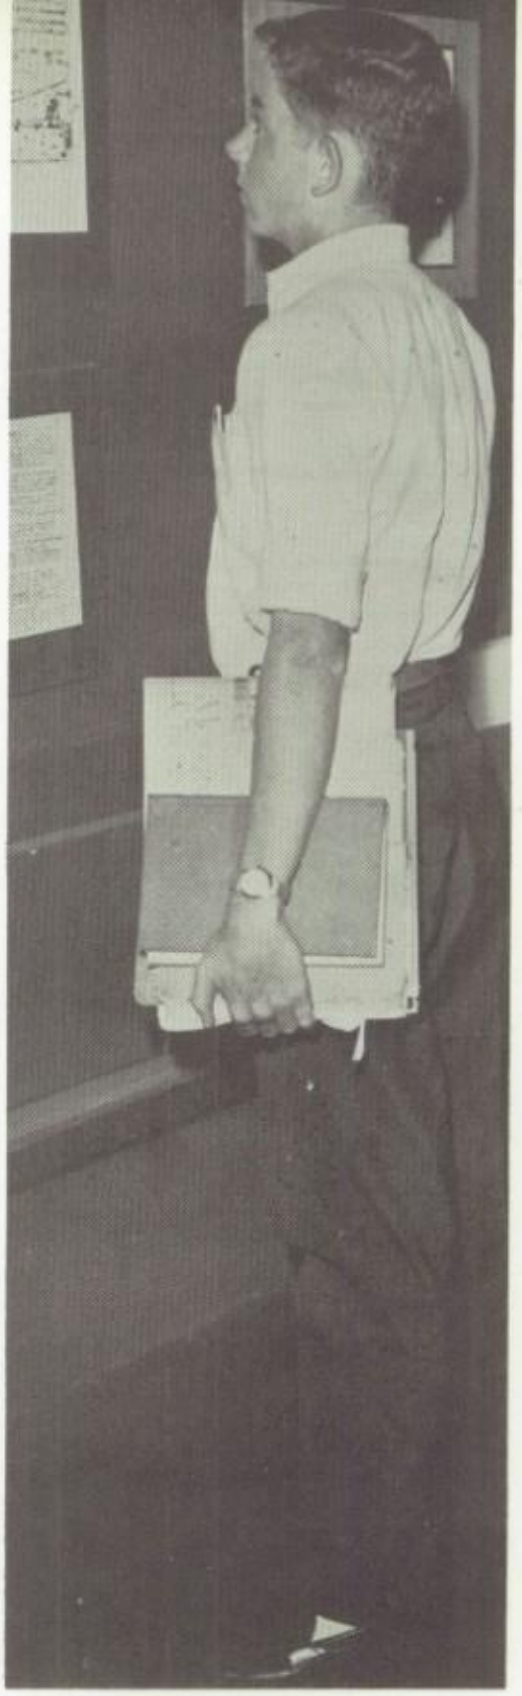
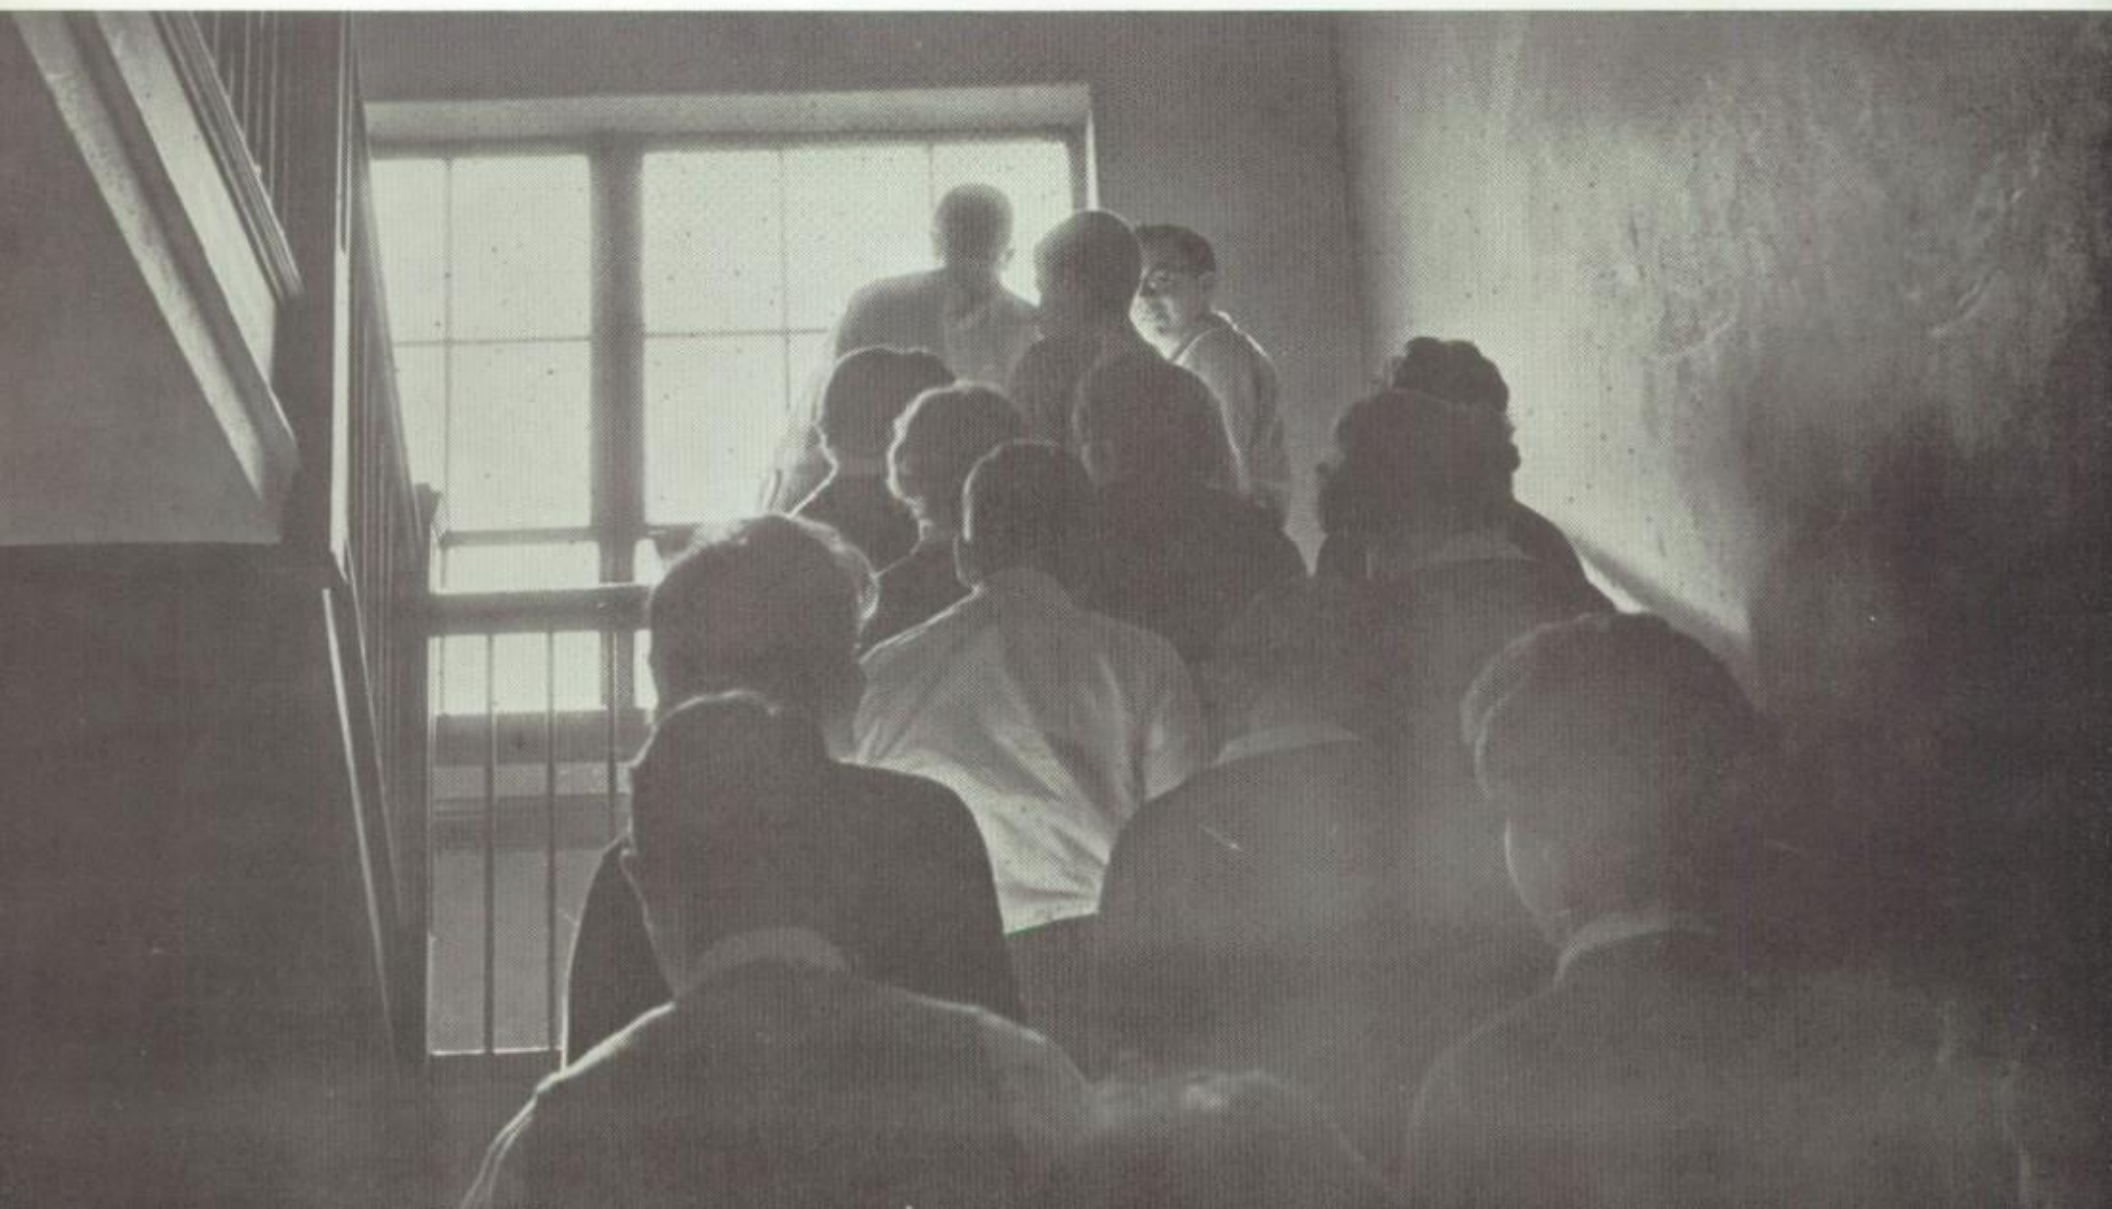
FEELINGS AND CONVICTIONS.





FREEDOM OF THE INDIVIDUAL

The uniform I wear makes me seem equal to the person next to me; but this is only on the surface. A dynamic spirit of individual freedom lives in the halls of Notre Dame; it is reflected in the way I think, the way I speak, and the extra-curricular activities I take part in. It is an established fact that we all have different capabilities; the Catholic education recognizes this, and goes further in constantly reminding me that God is the Originator of any talents I possess. Notre Dame tries to develop all of these talents, mental or physical, whether large or small, by offering me a variety of activities. Sports, study groups, and publications increase my interest in things outside academic studies; I discover new ideas, and learn to consider those of others. The greatest effect is the awareness I develop for the world around me. This, then, is Freedom of the Individual: helping me to uncover my good qualities and my own opinions and preferences, that I may become a distinct personality, free to choose my own state in life.

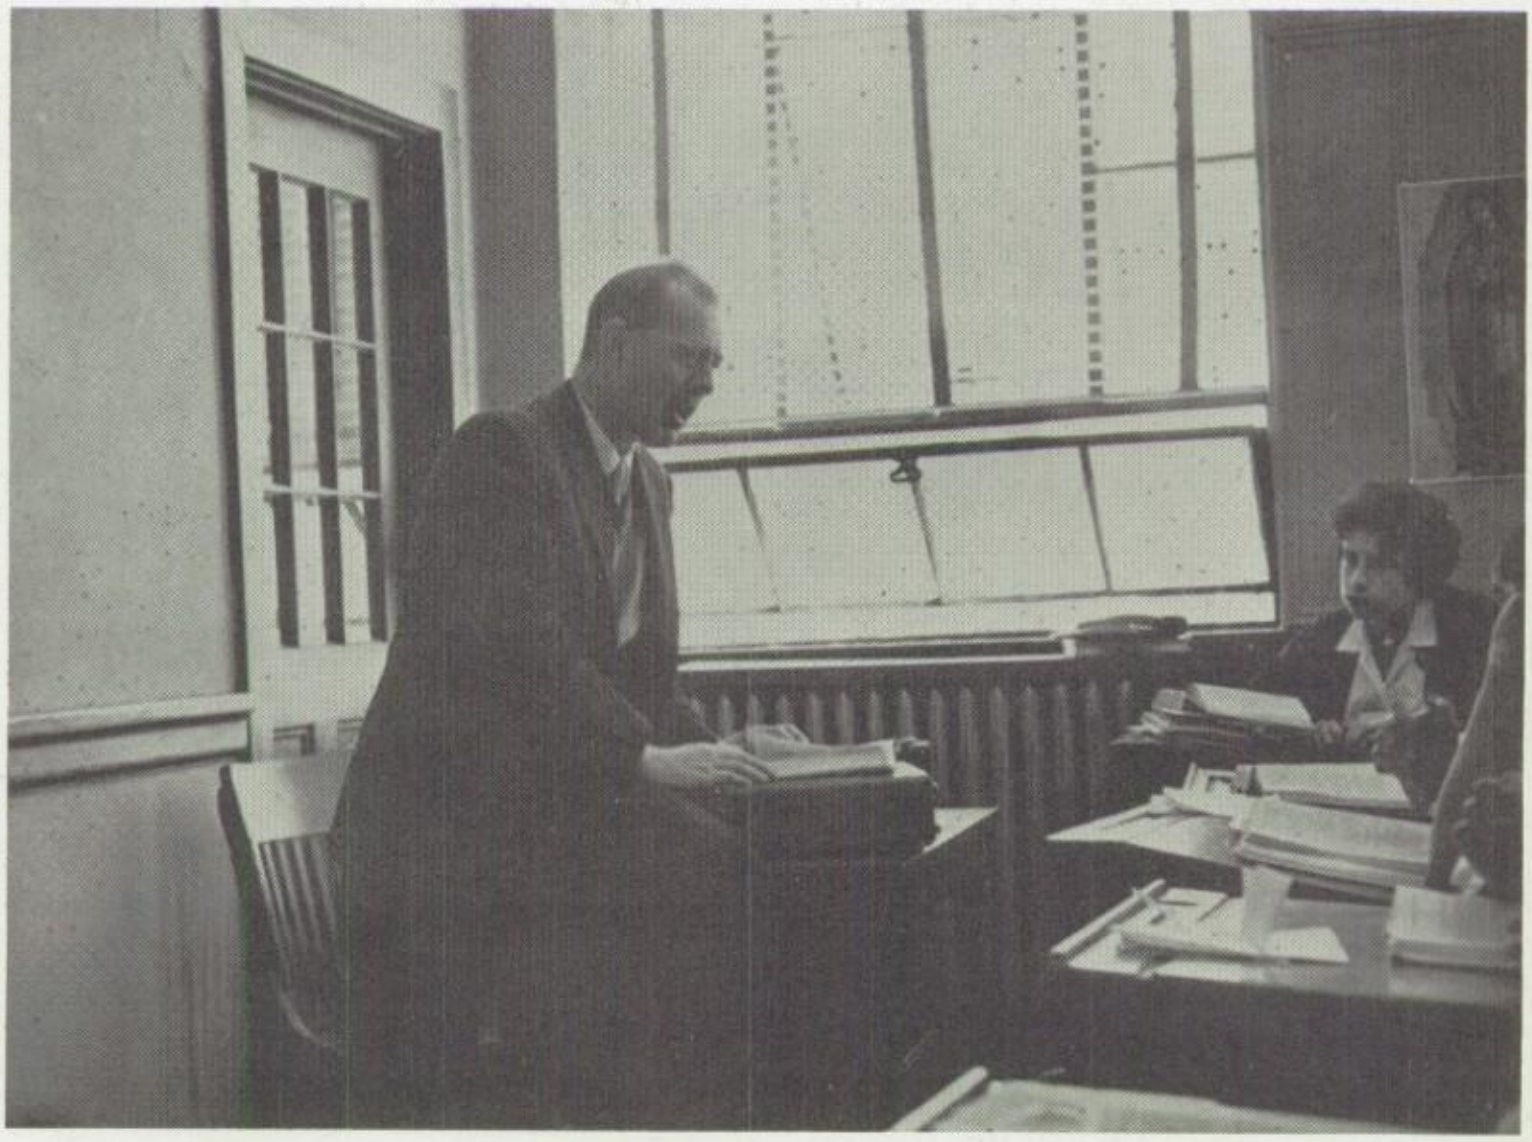
The School

. . . is a unique institution whose walls are aged with time, and whose name is respected and loved. Notre Dame is a combination of dedication, high ideals, and determination on the part of both faculty and students.



"There is no freedom without education because only that human who is harmoniously developed in all his faculties is loosed from the bonds of intellectual and moral slavery."

FACULTY

The faculty of Notre Dame is composed of trained priests, sisters, and laymen who devote their time, energy, and strength to us, the students. These men and women, besides helping us educationally, are also our constant spiritual advisors and guides. The unending task of these dedicated instructors is to prepare us for the world outside, and to help mold us into the good Catholic citizens God intended us to become.

THE INDISPENSABLES

In any school, there are those who very rarely get attention or praise. Yet, it is upon the service of these people that the school is built. Mrs. Costner, Father Driscoll's secretary; George, the janitor; and the Kitchen Staff, are such people. Their many unsung deeds are the backbone of Notre Dame; without them, Notre Dame would cease to be the school she is. Because of their help and loyalty, Mrs. Costner, George, and the Kitchen Staff really deserve the title, "The Indispensables"

SENIOR LEADERS COMMENT

MIKE BOEHM

"In the future I plan to play the stock-market with unerring ability, make a million dollars, and retire to a life of luxury with a family and fallout shelter."

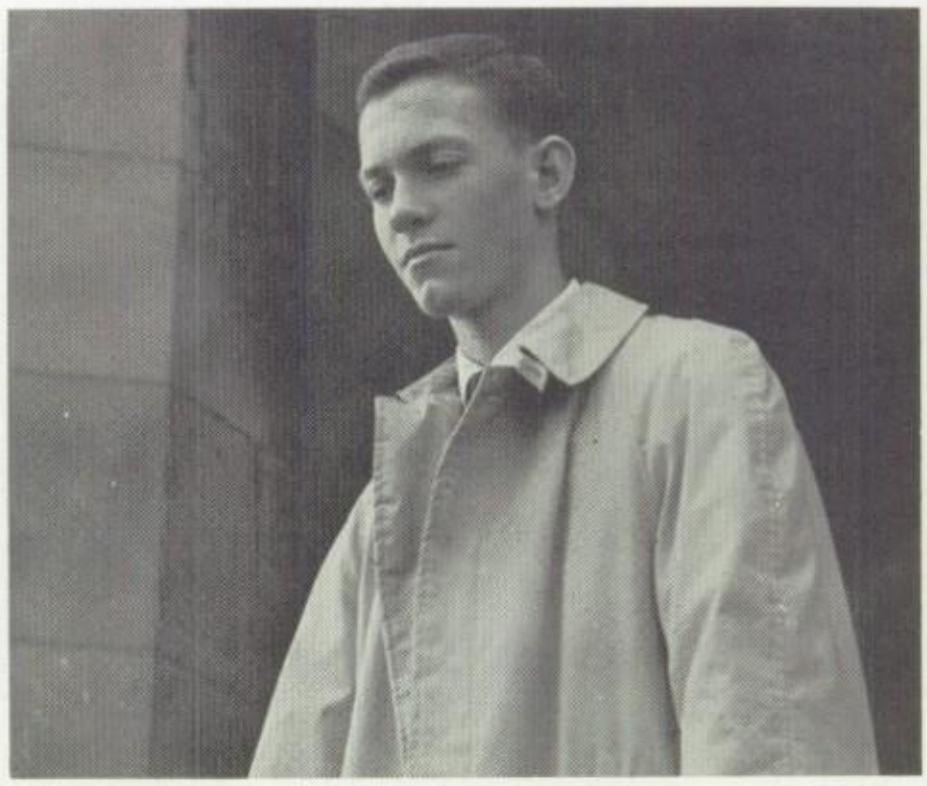
DELPHINE AINSWORTH, Co-Editor of IRISH ECHOES

"I plan to further my education in the field of medicine and possibly to help to relieve the suffering of children all over the world. I hope, also, that my children will be able to live in a world of peace and contentment."

SUZY DURHAM, Senior Class President, Editor of Marian

"My immediate aim is to expand all of my potential to its fullest, to develop any talent I may possess, and to become the best person I possibly can. My ultimate purpose is to take the attributes which I have thus gained and pass them on to my children, future citizens of America and of Heaven."

ON THE FUTURE

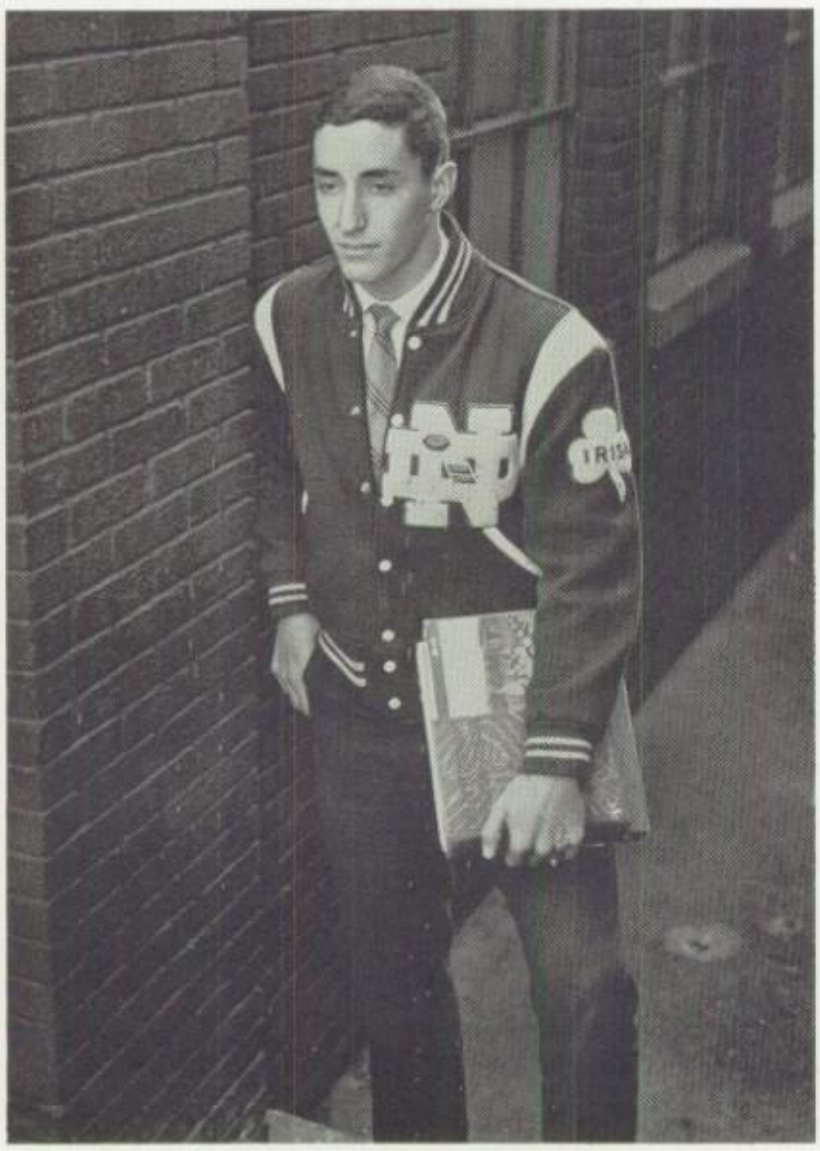


BILL LEYDORF

"My future hopes lie in the field of aviation. I have the ambition of attending the U.S. Air Force Academy, and becoming a career officer in the Air Force. Later, I plan to complete my education in the field of aeronautical engineering or aerodynamics. These fields of work are wide open, and hold advantages for anyone interested in them."

EDDIE UNRUH, Student council president

"My immediate goal in life is to obtain a well-rounded college education, from both an intellectual and social standpoint. My ultimate goal is to benefit myself and others by applying the principles that I will develop in college to my profession or business."



ESTELLE FORD, Co-Editor of IRISH ECHOES

"I don't care what they say—I'm convinced there's a future still left for the younger generation. As long as there are men who will fight for freedom —freedom of God, education, and the individual—we can still live purposeful lives. I intend to preserve the cause of Freedom as a writer."

The lost generation—that's what they called us. However, we cannot help but feel our class has achieved unity and purpose through the accomplishments of all her members in the last year. We watched proudly as the Seniors of 1962 helped lead the football team to a hard-won victory over the number five team in the state (Little ole Notre Dame . . . and our class!) The feeling recurred as we opened our Marians to find another page and a more complete coverage of the school views . . . the Senior Class did it! No one in the school, particularly in our class, will ever forget the double-overtime victory won by the Senior-led basketball team over the largest high school in the area. And then, when with talent, brains, and good looks, Suzy Durham was selected Junior Miss Chattanooga, and Rosie Park second runner-up in the city-wide contest, we knew that our class had come into its own. The immediate success of the 1962 IRISH ECHOES is the climax to many climactic events in the lives of the members of our class. We are confident that this issue is, and will be for some time, "the best ever". The reason for these truly great accomplishments was a determination to "make good"—to be better than the best—in studies, in athletics, and in extra-curricular activities. None were afraid to do the unusual, to disregard convention, in order to bring about the best results. The effect upon our class has been one of growing confidence and a desire for even higher goals. In this last year, we have "found ourselves." We have seen we are capable of as much as we think we are, and consequently we strive for the highest goals. This year we grew up, and are on our way to making a name for ourselves as the most successful class ever to emerge from these halls.

JUNIORS

It seems that since the freshman year, our class, the present Junior class, has had a reputation for being a class with high goals, and the ability and ambition to reach these same high goals. When our class starts something, we see it through to the end, never giving up or slacking in spirit. Each of us is always willing to render a helping hand to a fellow student.

There are many capable students in our class. We have four of the five officers of the C.S.M.C.; one of the three in the Honor Society; two of five in the Sodality; and two of five officers on the Student Council, to say nothing of the numerous Marian reporters and year book ad salesmen.

In all three years of high school, we have attained much praise only through much hard work.

Our class also has good school spirit as well as class spirit. The variety shows always find the bright, smiling faces of several hopeful members of our class. We also have many participating in sports; of course, those who do not participate attend the games and cheer our teams on to victory, whether it be in football, basketball, baseball, or wrestling.

Because of our get-up-and-go, our first class play was a success. It took a lot of time and work, but that, too, is accredited to our fame—hard, earnest work. This year we took on another new responsibility—the Junior-Senior Prom. As in the play, the keynote was hard work and co-operation. The experience gained will prove invaluable in the coming years. Our final goal, of course, lies in the future: What lies ahead, what has God planned for us? It is yet early to find the answers to these questions. But we do look forward to our senior year—class rings, class parties, and graduation.

SOPHOMORES

SISTER AMBROSE, Moderator

Now that we have weathered the storms of the freshman year, we feel that we have been accepted and really belong to Notre Dame. Our colors are light blue and white; our motto is "We serve in hope." Once a month after school we held our class meetings under the wise supervision of Sister Ambrose. At these meetings, panel discussions and plays were given by our hard working and talented classmates. There is hardly a club at Notre Dame that does not have a representative from the Sophomore Class. We have participants in the C.S.M.C., Sodality, and the Science and Math Clubs. Those who are now attending journalism classes are eagerly waiting for the day when they will become active members of the Marian Staff. We have Sophomores in the band who have many a time played the "Notre Dame Victory March" at football games. Father Grannis has organized a Concert Chorus in addition to the Glee Club; many Sophomore girls are members of these two groups. Our goals are high and we will retain them through hard studying and unceasing effort. Many Sophomores are candidates for the Honor Society; we have three representatives to the Student Council.

There are many fine and promising athletes in our class who will help bring many victories to Notre Dame. We have players on both football and basketball teams, and the girls basketball team. In addition, we claim as our own one of the top-rated young tennis players in the nation. We now anxiously await the on-coming year when we will become upperclassmen. Through the future years we will keep our class spirit and always remain loyal students of Notre Dame.

FRESHMEN

Here come the Freshmen, the largest group of enthusiastic Irish in the history of the school, full of interest and looking forward to high scholastic honors and great athletic acclaim. Our large class posed a problem for the faculty and the solution was the addition of two new classrooms.

We quickly adapted ourselves to our new surroundings and succeeded in joining in the high spirit and leadership of all the fine Notre Damers. We have prepared ourselves for hard work in the many clubs and activities so numerous at Notre Dame. Our class members are actively taking part in such important groups as the C.S.M.C., Sodality, Science and Math Clubs.

The Glee Club has some worthy freshmen members who are working to attain singing glory for our dear Alma Mater.

The newly organized Fine Arts Club attracted many of us and we hope to improve our talents and abilities through this cultural training. Many of us are working diligently hoping someday to become members of the National Honor Society, which is open only to upperclassmen.

In athletics, we freshmen are giving our all to make a name for ourselves in the sports program at Notre Dame.

Our being privileged to attend our first retreat was one of the high points of our freshman year.

With pardonable pride we feel we can give to our Alma Mater high academic achievements and an excellent school spirit. In return, our Alma Mater will reward us with security, poise, and an excellent education.

The body which is the ruling force over the students at Notre Dame is the Student Council. It is composed of president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and representatives from each class, all of whom are elected by the students. The Student Council passes laws which govern the student body. It also puts into effect committees which are responsible for keeping our school clean and enforcing the laws passed by the Council. This organization, though still young, has done much to improve not only the school itself but also the spirit of the students. This Council gives the students a say in their government and allows them to bring before Father Driscoll those ideas which they think would improve the conditions in the school.

STUDENT CRUSADE

OFFICERS: Francine Carter, Paladin chairman; Patty Giles, Vice-President; Louis Pastorik, President; Rosie Marabella, Secretary; Emmett Lynskey, Treasurer.

One of the organizations at Notre Dame that has a very important function, both at home and abroad, is the C.S.M.C. This society's chief goal is, aid for the missions, both financial and spiritual. The Mission Crusade holds a meeting once a month which is attended by the entire student body. This meeting has a twofold purpose: to arouse the student's interest in the missions, and by means of skits, panels, or speakers, stress a point of vital importance and interest. The driving force behind this group is Sister Mary James, who, with the assistance of her officers over the past years, has made this organization an integral part of the school.

SODALITY

Rosie Park, Secretary; Mary Weidner, Prefect; Francine Carter, Treasurer; Sister Mary Ambrose, Moderator; Suzy Durham, Vice-Prefect; Beth Warwick, Corresponding Secretary.

What is the Sodality? What is its purpose? Through the Sodality the girls at Notre Dame strive to sanctify themselves and their fellow students. Under the guidance of Sister Ambrose and through the leadership of the prefect, Mary Weidner, the Sodalists entertain themselves, discuss religious questions and in some cases have given material, as well as spiritual aid to the needy. This organization is not only a "free" period twice a month, but it is the Sodalist's way of life. New girls are introduced, lectures are given, and dues are collected. All of these deeds contribute to the unification of the girls of Notre Dame and to the spread of knowledge and to the honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

JUNIOR PLAY

Practicing?

The three-act comedy produced by the Junior Class was directed by Sister Mary Edward. In "No More Homework", a group of high school students attempt to take over the school in the absence of their principal, despite protests from unhappy teachers. The students, Beth Warwick, Angela Althoff and Richard McGinnis, led the students in a side-splitting production which will be long remembered by all who attended.

Now what, Pat?

"Cheaper by the Dozen"

SENIOR PLAY

"Cheaper By the Dozen", was the eye-catching title of the Senior Class Play, directed by Sister Cecilia. In this three-act comedy the Father, portrayed by Philip Hyman, attempted to run his large family by means of a stop-watch. Suzy Durham who was Mother, found herself acting as a buffer between Father and the teen-age daughter, Mary Louise Genshimer. The production was a great success and will long be remembered by the students.

Band Leader: Miss Baker

For the past two years the senior girls have enjoyed a very special event. This event takes place about midway during football season. Yes, it is Homecoming. Reigning as this year's homecoming queen was Diane McCall. Her court was composed of Delphine Ainsworth, Rosie Park, Kay Lingerfelt and Susie Durham. Diane and her father were given front row seats as they cheered the Fighting Irish on to a glorious victory. The proud fathers were also in the gala festivities. They were escorting their daughters, each hoping his girl would reign as queen, hoping she would be queen in the eyes of Notre Dame—knowing she was queen in his.

HONOR SOCIETY

One of the most exclusive organizations at Notre Dame is the Honor Society. It is a chapter of the National Honor Society and demands high standards of scholarship, character, and leadership. Sister Dorothea is the moderator of the Society, while Eddie Unruh presides over the meetings as the president. Marianne Milligan and Gay Nolan are vice-president and secretary, respectively, for the 1961 school year.

This year's Marian is superb! Its the first year they have six pages of success instead of four. The whole staff is working quite diligently to produce this mass of hard labor. This production consists of one night a month in which the page editors and their favorite little helpers stay in the Press Room about two hours, which invariably is drawn out to five, due to the recuperation necessary after this excruciating labor. The Marian Staff this year has outdone itself in producing a paper outstanding both in quantity and quality.

Work, worry, tears, frustration, happiness, proudness, and finally it is achieved. The yearbook has gone to press! Co-editors float through the halls, while the rest of the staff meekly sit in some desolate spot and wait for recuperation to come upon them. The peace and contentment of an afternoon and evening in the quite of a home is unknown to these slaves of duty until this deadline has been met. Sports

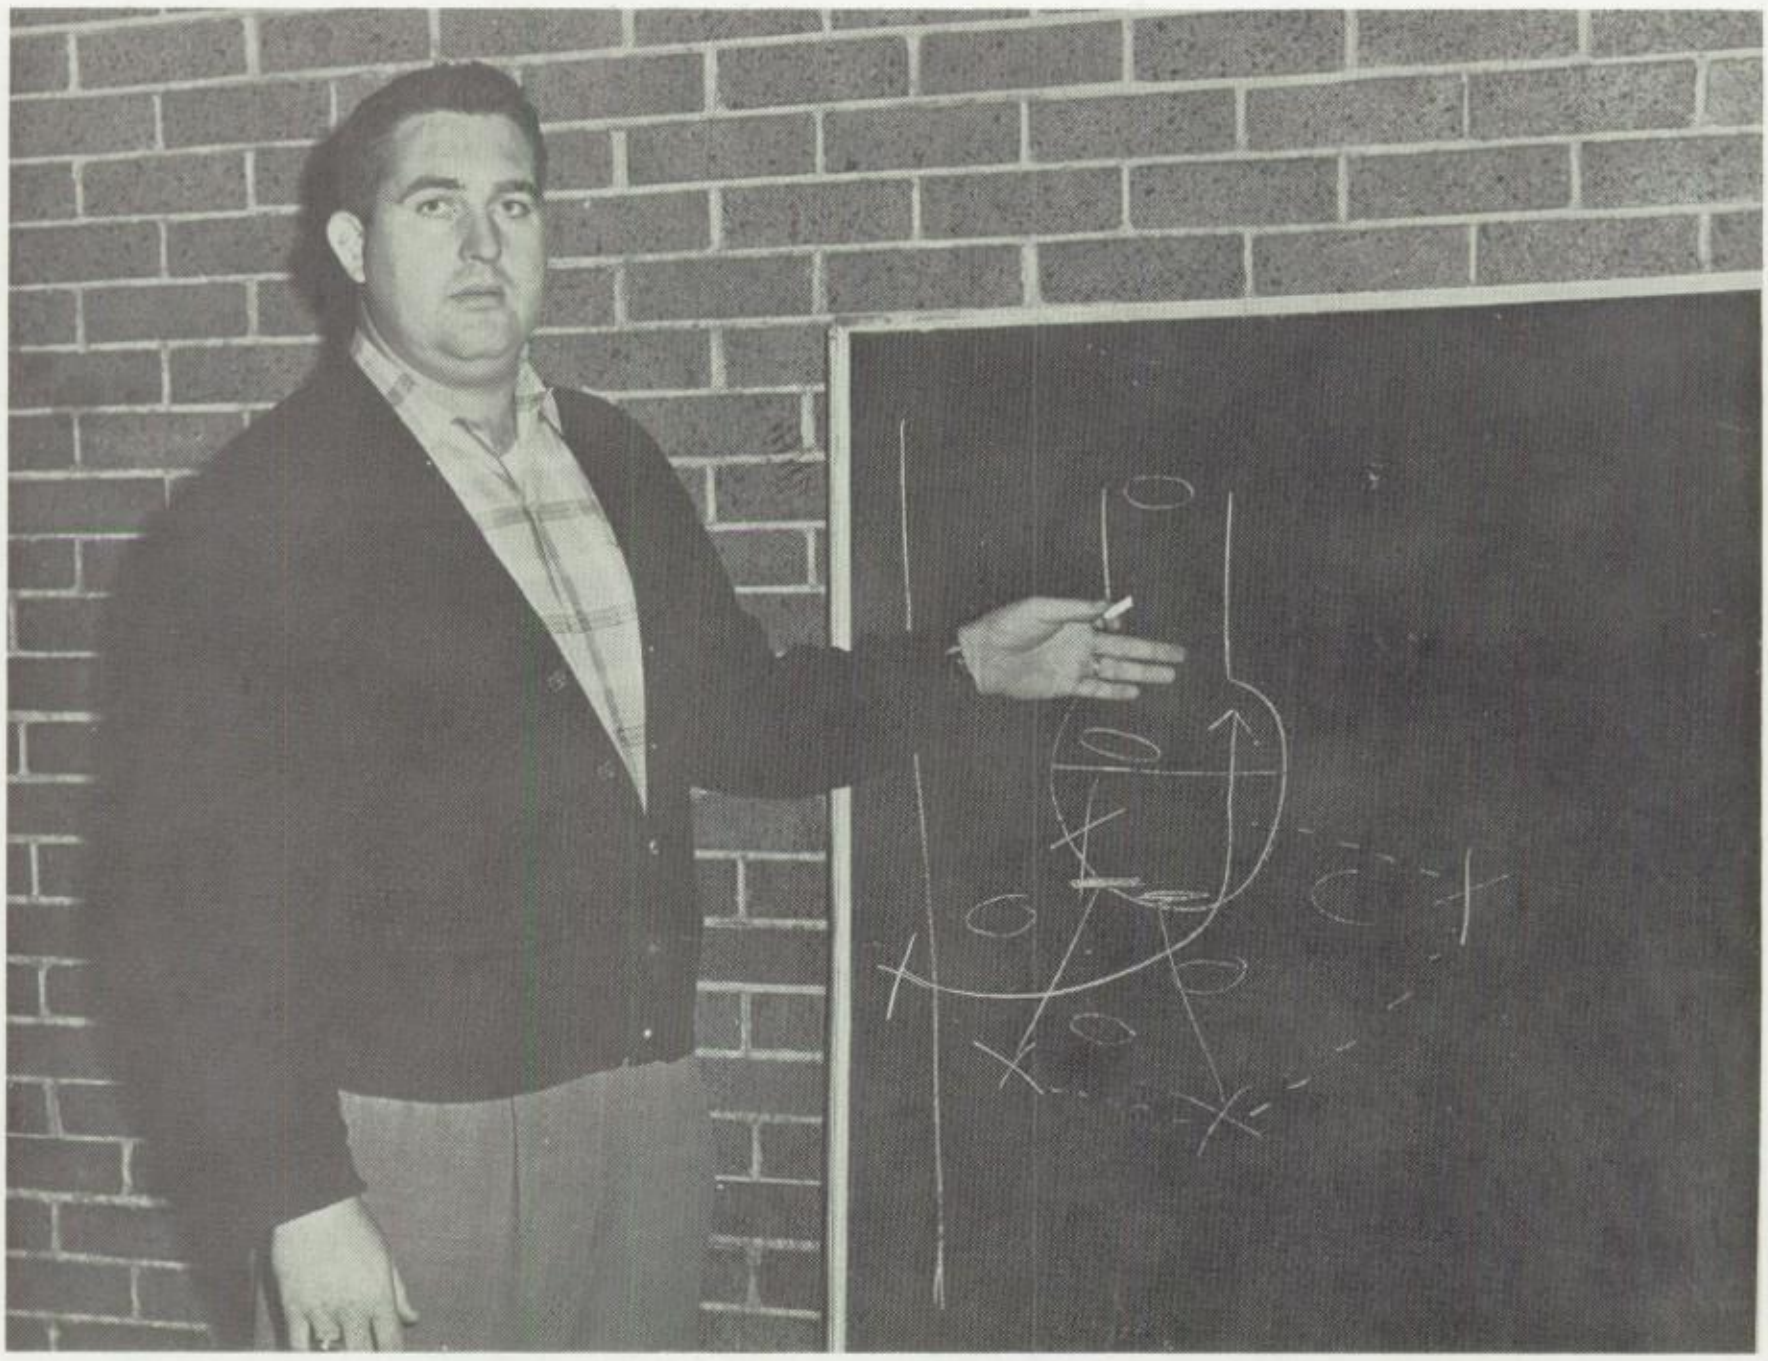
. . . offer energetic and willing youths a chance to become mature young adults. By combining Catholic principles with fair play, they develop a desire for justice and humility. On the athletic field they are the image of Notre Dame to all outsiders; they carry the honor and good name of the school throughout the area.

TOM CLARY, Head Coach

In September 1959, Coach Tom Clary came to Notre Dame. His "deep Southern" accent was the first thing noticed by the students. Since then, his love and enthusiasm for all sports, his winning athletic teams, and fine leadership earned him the "Coach of the Year" award in 1960 as he led his team on to win the T.V.C. football crown. The achievement and success of his football is shown in the record of the last three seasons. In 1961 they posted an impressive (8-3) record and in 1960 they posted one (8-1-2) which has never been surpassed in the school history. We feel that Tom Clary has more than proved himself to be an able coach, and that he truly represents the spirit of the "Fighting Irish" of Notre Dame.

BILL REWIS, Assistant Coach



A prominent and well-liked member of the Notre Dame coaching staff is Mr. Bill Rewis. In his two years at Notre Dame his coaching endeavors have invariably resulted in success both for himself and his teams. Coach Rewis came to our school from O.L.P.H. in 1960 and assumed leadership of the freshmen in all sports. The hard-hitting frosh football squad that year posted a winning record and his basketball team won the district title. Besides being the varsity line coach and basketball mentor, he has also been head coach of wrestling and track for two years. Hard work—efficiency—interest—in the individual . . . these are only a few of the qualities possessed by Mr. Rewis who is a credit to Notre Dame and the coaching profession.

FRESHMEN FOOTBALL

The freshmen of '61-'62 were coached by an alumnus of Notre Dame, Jay Johnson. Jay played football, basketball and baseball for four years under the tutelage of Bill Hofer. He graduated in '58 and was elected football and basketball captain that same year. Both on and off the field or court Jay, as a player, has always been known for desire and sportsmanship. As a coach he has tried to instill in his players these same qualities which he still possesses. How well he has succeeded is evident in the attitude and spirit of his fine teams.

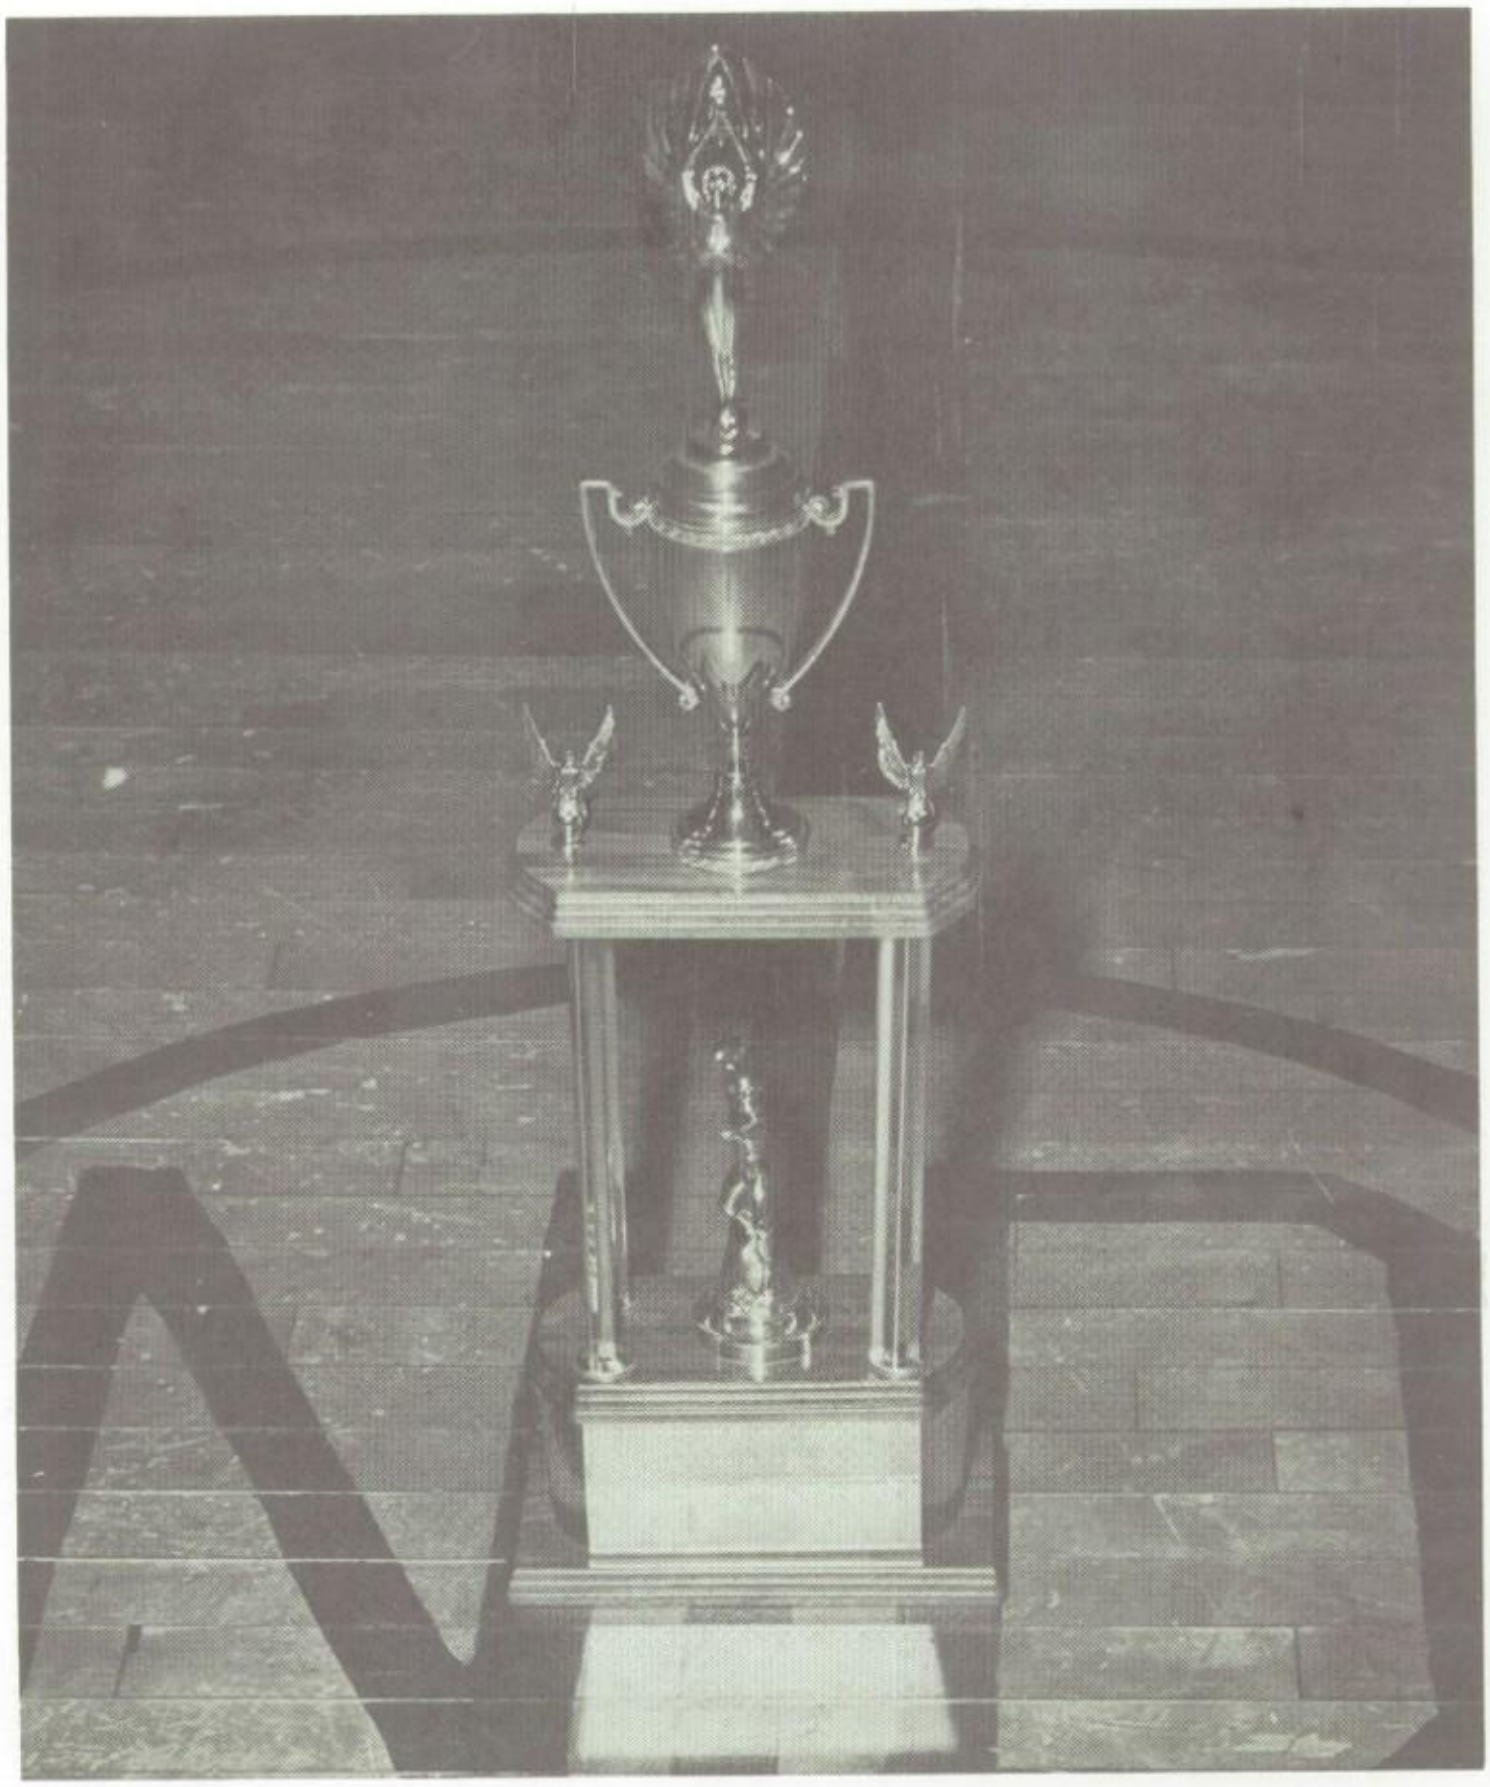
LEGION BOWL



The Legion Bowl, an annual post-season football game, initiated in 1961 was held at Pideville on November 18. The Irish of Notre Dame faced Marion County in the rain-soaked encounter. Notre Dame was hard pressed by the Indians but never gave up. This great spirit and determination paid off as the Irish won 12-6. Ernie Helms and Bob Canon led the Irish offensively with fine runs and hard blocking. Canon's 50 yard touchdown run was the highlight of the impressive contest. It was also the margin of victory. Defensively our all-city stars Unruh and Hubbuch played a fine game in helping limit Marion County to 104 yards. They were aided by Tom Perrin and Chuck Steig who anchored the interior of the line. As a whole, the team functioned very well in bringing Notre Dame's season to a close with a fine 8-3 record. This game will be remembered forever in the hearts and minds of the more loyal students as Notre Dame's first bowl victory.

A roar echoes from the student body and once again our famed victory march is played. The curtain opens revealing the cheerleaders, the heart of the Irish Spirit. They are responsible for the stimulation of the pep of the students at all the athletic events. Always diligent and determined, striving to carry out their immense undertaking, neither rain, sleet, nor snow will keep them from cheerfully performing their duties. These spirit boosters deserve the utmost admiration and respect of all the students. So we extend a big vote of thanks to them for a job well done.
